

JANUARY 2, 2014

Tested: The Susan Ciminelli Experience

by Julia DiNardo

[All Images via Susan Ciminelli Beauty Clinic]

With over thirty years of experience in the beauty industry, Susan Ciminelli and her team of experts take a holistic, hearty approach to beauty which results in the concept of healing and nurturing the skin, using a set regimen and natural ingredients derived from both the earth and the sea. With a bi-coastal following and a collection of products that can keep you up to speed no matter where you live, health and beauty most certainly go hand-in-hand, combining eastern and western practices to create a unique amalgam of effective beauty products and techniques.

[I'm so relaxed already; and I haven't even started my treatments!]

Ciminelli formerly had a space inside of Bergdorf Goodman for 10 years, and now practices her beauty treatments just down the street at her Beauty Clinic, located at 118 East 57th Street, a zen haven and tranquil space that is as comfortable as it is invigorating. I received an aromatherapy facial and foot reflexology, using all-natural cleansers derived from algae and plant extracts to exfoliate, hydrate, and brighten.

[With Susan Ciminielli at the Beauty Clinic]

Crystal healing is also part of the facial, which is meant to balance the seven chakras and disposing of any negative energy surfacing from your body. Reflexology \(from \$80\), coupled with the facial \(from \$85\), is the ultimate decadent treat. Using essential oils, your feet will get a much needed rework and rest, while your face will be experiencing a renewal and rejuvenation. You can try an array of services at the Beauty Clinic, which also include BroadBand Laser treatments, body wraps, manicures, pedicures, waxes, and even nutritional consultations.

[An array of items from Susan's high-quality product collection]

After my treatment, I received a skin assessment alongside products to compliment and heal, broken down into five steps. My particular regimen of cleanse, activate your skin metabolism, lock moisture in, and moisturize included the cleansing milk, bamboo ginger scrub, hydrating formula, seawater spray, and moisture replenishing day cream. Its so easy to scrub a routine and follow along for great skin when you trust the source that put it together for you! I'm thoroughly pleased with the Susan Ciminelli Beauty Clinic experience and products, and I'm sure you will too!

Services range from $25-$450, and products from $12-$300. Contact the Susan Ciminelli Beauty Clinic, 118 East 57th Street 3rd Floor New York, NY 1002: 212.750.4441 for an appointment at this or the Los Angeles location, as well as to test and purchase the Susan Ciminelli line of products.