

THE BEST FACIALS

GOOP

The factors that take a facial from good to life-changing depend solely on personal preference (borderline medical-grade microdermabrasion vs. gentle hydrotherapy, for example). Nailing down the ideal treatment for your skin's needs involves a bit of trial and error. To minimize error—and make the trial process a pleasurable one—we've corralled the best luxury spas, aestheticians, and straight-up dermatologist offices known to yield great results in a single visit. What's more, many of our favorites bottle their star formulas (some have even launched entire skincare lines), making at-home upkeep significantly easier.

SUSAN CIMINELLI

118 E. 57th St., 3rd Floor, Midtown | 212-750-4441

Susan Ciminelli's true claim to fame is her roster of freakishly potent anti-aging facials, which incorporate everything from aromatherapy to essential oils to hydradermabrasion. She's also a big believer in the inside-out approach to skin health and will send you home with an approved list of skin-healthy foods in addition to a customized at-home product regimen. Not coincidentally, her namesake product line is as extensive as it is hard working. She spends a lot of time in Los Angeles, too, where she treats clients in a private space.
