EDITOR'S PICKS

Deputy editor/beauty know-it-all Paige Herman highlights this month's latest and greatest.

• My moisturizer of the month is Susan Cimminelli's new Sensitive Skin Anti-Aging Cream ($80). Perfect for my combination skin (and those with rosacea), this rich cream hydrates while soothing the face with lemon and chamomile essential oils. Available at Susan Cimminelli Day Spa, Bergdorf Goodman, 754 Fifth Avenue, 212-872-2650.

• Though nearly all of us have gone Completely Bare, now we can take it all off at Barneys, too. And in the name of love, 10 percent of all spa proceeds from the month of February go to the V-Day Organization. Completely Bare, Barneys New York, 660 Madison Avenue, 212-833-2533.

• The newest name in nails is Dashing Diva, which opened in the Village last year and plans to expand to Times Square and Harlem in the near future. Though natural nails are pretty straightforward, those looking to go faux have a whole array of custom-fit options depending on how long you want them, and how long you want to wear them. Dashing Diva, 41 East 8th Street, 212-673-9000.

• Here's the scenario: You want to go to the spa, but you're not exactly sure which treatments you'll be due for come appointment time. Simply make an appointment at Simply Spa, where you book 60 or 90 minutes and choose from facials, massages, manis, and pedis, depending on what you need when you arrive for your service. Simply Spa, 104 West 14th Street, 212-647-8919.

• The Water Journey at Maximus ($80) is literally a wet dream (my apologies, but I couldn't resist). A full-body scrubdown and Vichy shower time is followed by a soak in one of the city's few true hydrotherapy tubs before you enter a steam-filled chamber where you are doused with warm water jets and a cold cascading waterfall. Just what the doctor ordered for the winter blues. Maximus, 15 Mercer Street, 212-431-3333.

• I just adore Eva Scribo Salon in the perpetually blossoming Meatpacking District. In addition to the impeccable service, this salon has what are possibly the most comfortable hair-washing stations in the city. Eva Scribo Salon, 632 Hudson Street, 212-677-7315.

• Whether you're on the road, at the gym, or just spatially challenged, the Yuko System travel-sized straightening iron ($65) gives you salon-sized results, and the carteret-shape makes straightening so easy. Available at yukosystem.com.

• Who says beauty is just for humans? My toy poodle, the Rocket (ROGET), is mad about O.P.L.'s Yuppy Puppy Polish ($7.95), while my mom's Rottweiler, Damian, is hot to trot in Fire Hydrant Red.

• When only a bit of the tropics can ease those winter blues, look no further than Pure Fiji—the products, not the island. The sumptuously scented sugar rub ($30.95) is the perfect skin-smoothing cold weather pick-me-up. Available at purefiji.com.
